British Columbia Building Permits by Type

Residential

- Single: This type of dwelling is commonly called a "single house". It comprises a one-dwelling unit completely separated on all sides from any other dwelling or structure and includes homes linked below ground.
- Row: One of three or more dwellings joined side by side but not having any other dwellings either above or below.
- Apartment: This category includes dwelling units found in a wide range of structures such as duplexes, triplexes, row duplexes, apartments proper and dwelling units over or at the rear of a store or other non-residential structure.

Non-Residential Groups

- Industrial: Buildings used in the processing or production of goods or related to transportation and communication.
- Commercial: Buildings used in the trade or distribution of goods and services, including office buildings.
- Institutional and Government: Buildings used to house public and semi-public services, such as those related to health and welfare, education or public administration, and buildings used for religious services.

Notes

- In some cases, the total value of permits shown in this report is less than actual because of incomplete reporting by municipalities.
Although the results of the Building Permit Survey are often used as a leading indicator of building activity, they do not represent the total construction activity in the province because not all areas report, and some large projects do not require a permit.
- An "n/a" indicates that data was not available and/or was not collected.
- A dash indicates either a nil report or a value of less than $500.
- Figures shown under the Regional District name as RDR apply to unincorporated areas.
- Annual and year-to-date totals are calculated using unrounded values.

Abbreviations

C - City

VL - Village

DM - District Municipality

T - Town
